

DAILY DEMOCRAT

LOUISVILLE:

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1868.

News by the Mails.

THE STATE.

Covington has two cases of small-pox.

Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a construction train, on the Louisville and Cincinnati railroad, near Covington, a few mornings since.

Parties to whom the work belongs have entered into an engagement with other parties for the completion of the Big Sandy railroad.

Edgar J. McNeil preached his farewell sermon at the Christian church in Georgetown, on Sunday morning, last, to a large audience.

S. P. Cunningham, of the Harrison County Democrat, has severed his connection with that paper, and designs making Murfreesboro, Tenn., his future home.

Two white boys have been arrested in Lexington as the murderers of the negro boy who was found dead and mutilated in the woods near that city a few days ago.

Paris is excited over the prospect of getting a first-class hotel building, a large hall for fairs, concert, etc., with a number of first-class business rooms, barbershop and stationery rooms.

It is proposed by the managers of the Lexington Academy of Music a benefit in order that they may be remunerated for the losses they have sustained in their attempt to introduce the drama in that said old city.

Mrs. Mary Keller, a most estimable lady, died suddenly in Paris, on Thursday last. She was sitting by the fire when she arose and asked her son to help her to the bed, and died in a few moments after lying down.

Michael Langdon, who shot his Demise, near Independence, Kenton county, a few days ago, and was judged in jail at Covington, committed suicide by hanging himself to his bed-post in his cell, on the 1st of this month.

On Saturday, Mr. Meers, Vannier & Bowring, of Lexington, sold to Messrs. Woods & Kennedy, of Fayette county, 32 head of No. 1 fat cattle for $65 per lb.

They are destined for the Eastern market and will start in a few days.

Mr. B. F. Harrell, of Bourbon, returned the other day from Montgomery, Alabama, where he had been in attendance on the Alabama State fair. He took down seventy-four Berkshire pigs and brought back two silver cups and a medal.

The Paris Kentuckian says: Messrs. Morrow and Cunningham sold the Hall property on Main street, occupied by McMillin & Chambers as a drug store, to Thomas S. Barkley, of Georgetown, for $6,000, payable in six months, and the note bearing interest from date.

An esteemed correspondent writes us from Glasgow, over recent date that Elder S. A. Keller, of the Reformed church, has been conducting a protracted meeting in that city for a week or more, and by his perseverance and zeal had succeeded in adding twenty-two persons to the church.

Mr. Thomas, a Bourbon county dis-tiller, is preparing to run night and day, and expects to make over one thousand barrels. Last season he made over six hundred barrels, clearing about $15,000. He has recently sold a small lot of his last year's product for $25 per gallon, to Dr. H. H. Arkin, Ark.

—Quite a number of gentlemen are being called on to become candidates for the lower house of the Legislature to supply the vacancy caused by the resignation of Col. Rogers, of Fayette. Among those mentioned are Gen. Wm. Preston, Dr. Douglas L. Price, Mr. Abram S. Drake, Dr. S. H. Chew and Mr. G. W. Darnall, all thorough-going Democrats. The election occurs on the 29th inst.

THE SOUTH.

Hon. A. H. Stephens is in Augusta, Ga.

—Virginia farmers are raising pecan nuts for trade.

A large amount of cotton awaits shipment in Nashville.

The Nashville letter carriers delivered 43,483 letters last month.

—A son of the Siamese twins has lately settled in Southwest Missouri.

The New York Spirit of the Times says the terms of surrender offered to General Johnson by General Sherman were so ruthlessly assailed, were dictated by President Lincoln with the concurrence of Grand Grant.

THE SOUTH.

Hon. A. H. Stephens is in Augusta, Ga.

—Virginia farmers are raising pecan nuts for trade.

A large amount of cotton awaits shipment in Nashville.

The Nashville letter carriers delivered 43,483 letters last month.

—A son of the Siamese twins has lately settled in Southwest Missouri.

The New York Spirit of the Times says the terms of surrender offered to General Johnson by General Sherman were so ruthlessly assailed, were dictated by President Lincoln with the concurrence of Grand Grant.

—A frightened horse ran over a woman near Huntsville, Ala., and caused her instant death—her skull and neck having been broken by the collision.

—Frank Campbell, a boy in the check of Bill Burge, in Atlanta, a few evenings since, as the weapon used was a pistol, and all shot his wounds are said to be by no means serious.

The City Council of Macon, Ga., have passed an ordinance to exempt manufacturing establishments driven by steam for six years, and those driven by water power for sixty years.

A colored man at work on the opera-house at Athens, Ga., was severely beaten, breaking two of his ribs and receiving other injuries, which resulted several hours after in his death. The reason is that he was not killed in a few hours.

Samuel Dooley, who shot and killed Col. W. W. Withers, at Hendersonville, Tenn., has been brought to trial, to appear at the next term of the County court, and the work is to be prosecuted vigorously and completed as soon as possible.

The Atlanta Constitution says: A thousand collision with a lamp-post, a thousand, and the track-laying will begin this week. About three hundred track-laying men are at work, and the work is to be prosecuted vigorously and completed as soon as possible.

The Atlanta Constitution says: A thousand collision with a lamp-post, a thousand, and the track-laying will begin this week. The last few hundred track-laying men are at work, and the work is to be prosecuted vigorously and completed as soon as possible.

—Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

—Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

—Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a construction train, on the Louisville and Cincinnati railroad, near Covington, a few mornings since.

Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

—Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

—Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a construction train, on the Louisville and Cincinnati railroad, near Covington, a few mornings since.

Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

—Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

—Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a construction train, on the Louisville and Cincinnati railroad, near Covington, a few mornings since.

Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

—Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

—Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a construction train, on the Louisville and Cincinnati railroad, near Covington, a few mornings since.

Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

—Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

—Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a construction train, on the Louisville and Cincinnati railroad, near Covington, a few mornings since.

Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

—Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

—Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

An unknown man was run over and killed by a construction train, on the Louisville and Cincinnati railroad, near Covington, a few mornings since.

Lexington is domineering holiday attire.

Heavy fat cattle sell at about $10 per hundred in Bonham.

—Mr. Thor, an old and excellent citizen of Scott county, is dead.

Others seems to be an increased activity among the male traders of Shelby county.

The Bourbon county mule market is not so brisk, or prices hardly so good last week.

The site of the new Old Fellows Hall in Lexington has finally been determined upon.

It has been decided that non-resident stores of whisky in Paris must pay the city tax of $8 per barrel.

—Joshua May, at Straight Fork, Scott county, has a pig in one hind foot shaped exactly like a cat's paw.

The cold weather, says the Times, has produced considerable activity in the Georgetown matrimonial market.

J. E. Nichols, of Harrison, a well-known dealer in fine horses, died last Saturday, aged about twenty-seven years.

Mr. Bush Bowell, of Leesburg, recently had thirteen hogs stolen from him. Half the number were fat. The lot were worth $200.

</div